Foreword . . .

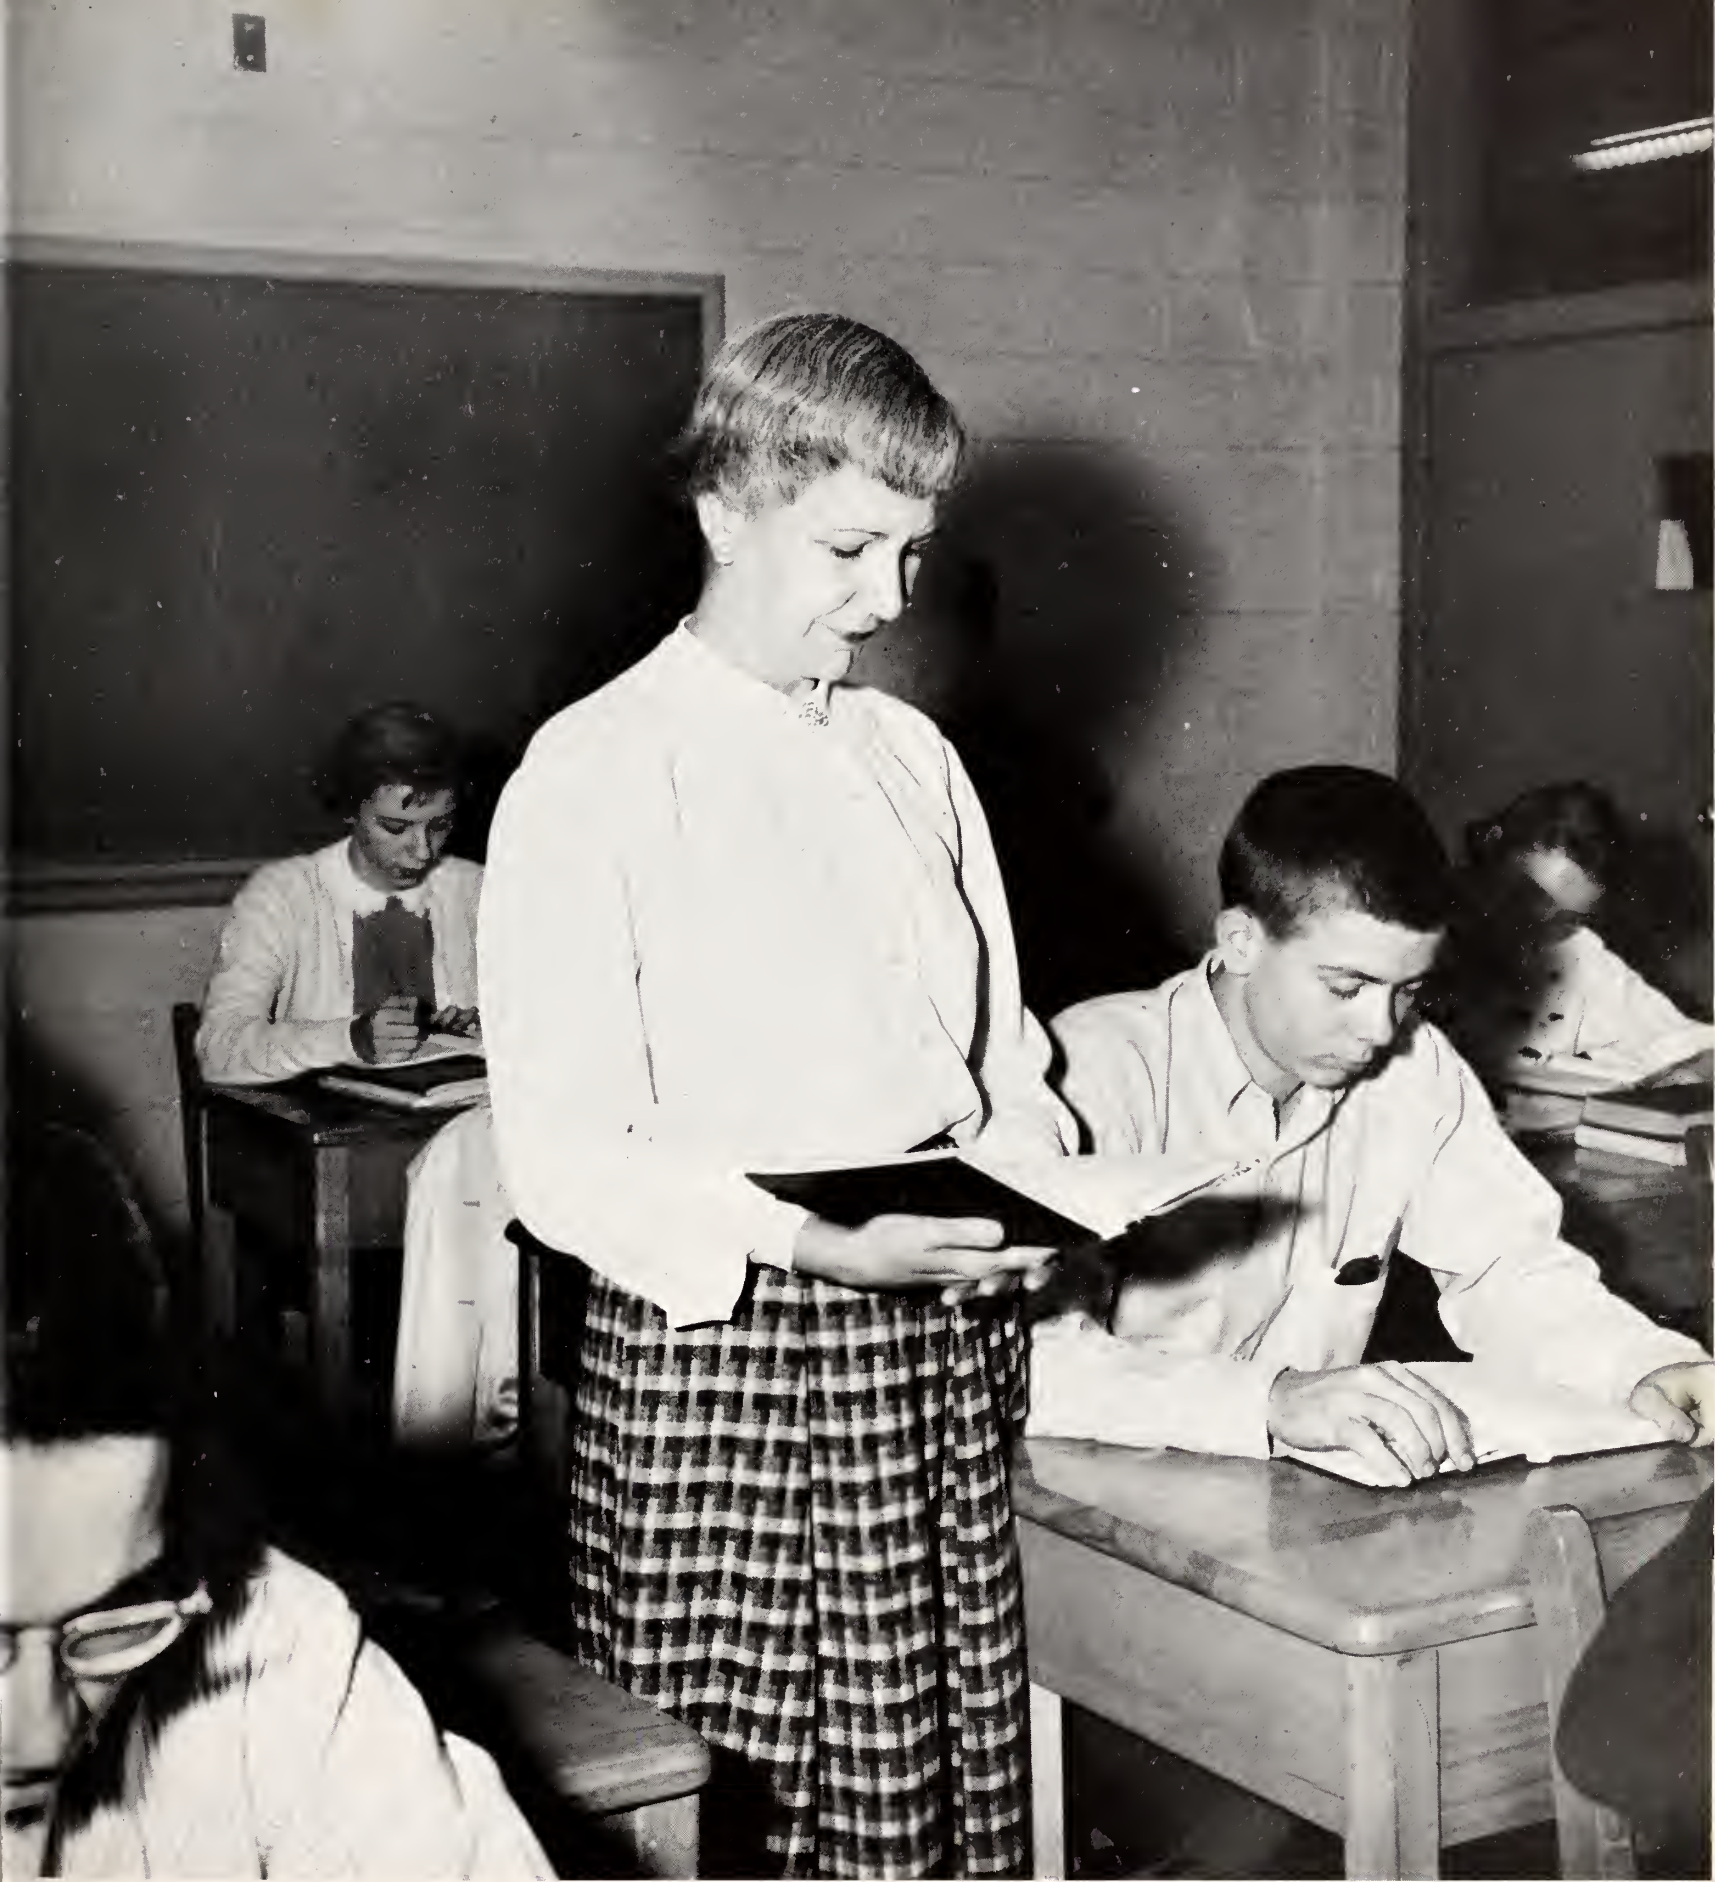

SIX YEARS AGO A DREAM WAS BORN. As seventh graders there was the newness of junior high life . . . admiration for the upperclassmen . . . ambition to belong . . . desire to excel . . . and always the dream, beckoning. In those early years we followed the footsteps of others, scarcely aware that we were adding our own to the trail of leaders . . . footfalls echoing, beating out a song for our dream . . . forward: searching, seeking, striving. We dreamed together, climbed together.

As we grew, Myers Park grew with us. The dream unfolded. Echoes of footfalls . . . steadfast, achieving. New faces joined us; others left us. Halls rang with laughter and, at times, echoed sadness. The campus changed with new buildings added . . . our school won honors, recognition.

The dream became reality, the awe-stricken seventh graders now the self-reliant seniors. It is an ending and a beginning. Here is the record of those years . . . those dreams as . . .

To One Who Dreamed with Us . . .

*A bringer of new things . . .
... Spirit yearning in desire
To follow knowledge like a sinking star,
Beyond the utmost bound of human thought . . .
To strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield.*

"Ulysses," Alfred, Lord Tennyson

Gracious . . . giving . . . dedicated to teaching. We all love her . . . yet she never cultivated, sought, or even expected that love. All she desired was that we accept the challenge of learning . . . to strive . . . to seek . . . to find . . .

Her dream was a vision of truth . . . that one cannot know fully until he knows abundantly . . . that love for books and the knowledge of other men opens the door for a greater love for life. She gave us her dream when she ignited in us the first spark of intellectual enthusiasm . . . without her our dream could never have been fulfilled.

We proudly dedicate our 1957 MUSTANG to Miss Evelyn Baker.

Administration

TO OUR ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF, Dr. Elmer H. Garinger, Dr. Jack Horner, Mr. Tom Braaten, Miss Frances Gunter, and Mr. Porter Sheppard, we wish to offer our heartfelt gratitude for the leadership and guidance which you have contributed to our educational adventure. Without your devotedness and wisdom, the seniors' dream could not have been fulfilled.

To the faculty we wish to express appreciation for the enthusiastic knowledge you have imparted to us. It would take another book to recount the many claims you have on our hearts, for through your efforts our different futures have been shaped. At times we may have seemed uncooperative and ungrateful; and it is only as graduation draws near and another school year closes, that we more fully realize the magnitude of our indebtedness to you.

Our Classes . . .

A moving panorama of faces, events, and emotions . . . the teacher among them, behind them, above them . . . watching, encouraging, giving.

She sympathizes with the tremulous seventh graders when they first behold the maze of corridors, the many buildings, the upperclassmen—all so much taller.

She helps the eighth graders . . . still confused, but learning fast . . . a bit spirited now with their new age and wisdom.

She knows a feeling of pride when her ninth graders acquire a title—Freshmen . . . and with it a sense of responsibility . . . the air of leadership.

She counsels the Sophomores, looking with their first real interest toward the future . . . the time has come for them to prove themselves.

She works with the Juniors in their struggle to realize the seriousness of high school and what it means to them . . . to find the proper balance between the new and exciting extra-curricular and the suddenly important studying . . . to become seniors in the “best class yet!”

She lives again the torn emotions of the Seniors . . . facing eagerly, yet half fearfully, an entirely different life . . . almost dreading to leave Myers Park which they have come to love so, yet anticipating the new life that beckons . . . eagerly awaiting Graduation . . . as

MOMENTS TO REMEMBER — every moment in the senior year is a moment to remember. Those now far away football games . . . Pat and the Shrine Bowl game . . . Mary Dale and that crazy car . . . the plays . . . Betsy and the newspaper . . . special recognitions . . . and even old Billy, always figuring out ways to save the class's money. Who will ever forget the Junior-Senior . . . pretty faces like Mary Hunter's . . . friends like Joe and Ken . . . or the final step — Graduation. Underclassman, we leave to you Myers Park, whose walls will forever ring with our laughter — a place of honor, a place of glory, a place where part of our hearts will ever be.

THE JUNIOR CLASS experienced all the joys and hard work of coming a step closer to their final year at Myers Park. November brought them their long-awaited class rings, and the second semester saw them working diligently on a car wash, a fashion show, and other fund-raising projects for the Junior-Senior.

Recognition for leadership came to members of the class during Student Council elections, the naming of Junior Marshals, and in Honor Society tapings. Another important activity was the selection of candidates for the American Field Service Program for the summer of 1957.

The two major class organizations, the Hi-Y and the Y-Teens, contributed many worthwhile services to the school and community.

THE LARGEST SOPHOMORE CLASS TO DATE, boasting a membership of 381, started early sponsoring drives, parties, and dances to raise money for the Junior-Senior of '58. Their scope of activities was broadened by the addition of a tenth grade Hi-Y club. The tenth grade Y-Teens had a busy year sponsoring rummage sales and other fund-raising campaigns to support their service projects. Of all the events, however, the aiding of needy families at Christmas stands out as the major project of the year.

Sophomores work to share the real meaning of Christmas.

Miss Stewart helps to plan the 10th grade's spring dance.

Sophomores plan their February do-nut campaign.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS ably fulfilled their role as leaders in the junior high this year. Working in conjunction with the junior high Student Council, they sponsored an open house in the fall and a Christmas dance to raise money for the flag pole presented to the school for the stadium.

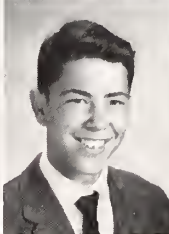

The highlight of the year was the Spring Prom which marked the close of junior high activities and the forward look to senior high days.

By their enthusiastic support to the athletic teams and all school activities, the Freshman Class proved to be a valuable asset to Myers Park.

JULY 6, 1940 — NOVEMBER 29, 1956

Our Activities . . .

Surely as all of us entered Myers Park, there were in our minds certain images of ourselves a few years hence and in our hearts the hope that these dreams would some day become reality. And in a variety of ways they did . . . as we served on the student council . . . saw our writing in print . . . were inducted into an idolized club . . . made our debuts on the stage. These were the highlights; yet perhaps more meaningful were the many hours spent working on various Y-Teen and Hi-Y projects . . . taking part in athletic events either by participating or by attending . . . serving on various committees . . . enjoying the vast music program at Myers Park. And all the while beneath this surface—as our parents viewed them—those dreams and their fulfillment were making indelible imprints on our character and our personalities as, through these activities, we freely gave and even more freely received from our school. Our dreams of the past have truly flourished . . . materialized. We have grown and matured, as Myers Park High School has made us capable of cherishing more beautiful dreams . . . more beneficial dreams . . . believing that they will come true . . . as viewed them...

Our Mustang . . . 1957

THE MUSTANG'S 1957 RACE AGAINST time and deadlines began long before school opened in September and gained momentum as hurdle after hurdle was reached and cleared, not always on the first try.

There were pictures to be made . . . "Hey, George!" "Say peaches." "Buddy, where are you?" "When does the Latin Club meet?"

There were pictures to be identified . . . "Can anyone tell these twins apart?" "What grade is he in?" "I had that picture just a minute ago."

There were ads to be sold . . . "Hello, Mr. Smith, I'm from the Myers Park MUSTANG. . . ."

There were articles to be written, copy to be corrected . . . "Where is your write-up?" "Does anyone know how to spell this girl's name?" "Is it boy's or boys'?"

There were hundreds of deadlines . . . "Catharine, we're going to lock you in the closet if you don't finish those sketches by Thursday." "We must have those pictures!" "Smile, everybody, smile!"

Winning the race meant work, but our work was our fun. All were striving for a yearbook that would equal the high standards of our school. There were smooth stretches and the inevitable bumps along the road, but the racers stayed mounted and made it over the finish line to give you — the 1957 MUSTANG.

BRINGING THE MUSTANG DOWN THE HOMESTRETCH ARE:

THE EDITORIAL STAFF PLAN TO MAKE THE '57 MUSTANG THE BEST YET. Mary Hunter Kennedy, Cleone Blair, Catharine Lucas, Miss Freeman, Jane Arthurs, Leighton McGinn, Margaret Carpenter, and Jean Mauldin. Not pictured Ethel Gilmour, Assistant Editor.

KEEPING FINANCES IN ORDER FOR THE MUSTANG, Charles Lucas, Mr. Brawne, and Bill Mantgamery are hard at work.

THE 1957 MUSTANG IS THE RESULT of the work and cooperation of many students at Myers Park. In addition to the eight major staff members, forty-two students were enrolled in fifth- and sixth-period annual classes. These staff members were assigned to the particular section of their choice and worked closely with the section editor in planning lay-outs and theme suggestions.

A highly successful subscription campaign was due to the fifty-one homeroom representatives who sold annuals and collected payments, and the advertising staff depended to a large extent on the fine work of ten volunteers who sold one hundred ads in their free time and helped secure sponsorships.

Many other talented individuals were tapped for much-needed assistance in art work, photography, picture identification, club write-ups, and other small but vital services.

A special indebtedness goes to the faculty, and especially the English teachers, who were so gracious and helpful in their assistance during individual picture-taking and in picture sales.

Truly, this year's MUSTANG is the embodiment of the spirit and cooperation of the entire school.

"WHICH ONE SHALL WE INVADE NEXT?" Charles Lucas, Advertising Manager, Christine Farnan, George Archer, May Wells Jones, Rabin Rabersan, Martha Hackney, Harriet Hester, Bill Taylor, Assistant.

MYER

"Look good, Butch?"

LITTLE DOES THE AVERAGE STUDENT REALIZE what goes into the make-up of his bi-weekly issue of the MYER-SPARK. The finished product is the result of many hours of planning and work: stories are assigned and written, ads are sold, copy is checked and typed, the lead print is set, proofs are checked and re-checked, headlines are written, pages are made up, final adjustments and checks are made, and finally the paper is sent to press. Excited and weary journalists exclaim, "We have been to press!" But before they can catch their breaths, the individual copies are ready for folding and circulating. Thus, another copy of the 'Spark appears; but rest assured that the same busy schedule is well underway for the succeeding issue. It is a never ending task!

SPARK

This year the MYERSPARK staff has endeavored to maintain superior standards in our newspaper by presenting the news in an interesting style through the best in student writing. Most important of all, they have endeavored to represent the reader and his opinions.

The twelve-page monstrosity at Christmas, the crazy mixed-up April Fool's issue, the reminiscent graduation issue, and fifteen others—these made up the 1957 issues of the 'Spark. The staff has thoroughly enjoyed its work; and feeling that its efforts have been well spent, it hopes the results have been enjoyable.

And another 'Spark is out!

Senior High Student Council

WORKING 'ROUND THE CLOCK

THE HANDS OF THE CLOCKS in Myers Park have ticked away many hours of work by the Senior High Student Council, both during and after school. Under the inspiring leadership of Dr. Horner, the Council, composed of the four officers, committee chairmen, homeroom representatives, and class presidents, worked diligently to better their school and to unify the student body. Outstanding achievements for the year were the publication and distribution of the first school handbook, "Information Please," the helping of a needy family at Christmas, and the sponsoring of the three main dances—Homecoming, Christmas, and Valentine. The loyalty and unselfish service of the Student Council have made this year outstanding in every way.

THE JUNIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL had a busy and successful year sponsoring several open houses, three dances, and the election of class officers. By means of the monitor system they made much progress in bettering the standards of conduct and citizenship in the junior high grades, especially in the cafeteria.

The council is composed of four officers and twenty-one homeroom representatives. Miss Sara Jones is the advisor.

Junior High Cheerleaders

"WE'RE GONNA FIGHT!" was the theme of the Junior High Cheerleaders from 1956 to 1957. Yes, they kept this cheer going when they were winning, losing, or tied with their opponent.

Practicing throughout the month of August, attempting to teach the mascots to cheer, selling booster cards at 7:45 in the morning, providing buses for the games away from Myers Park, and sponsoring parties for the teams showed hard work on the part of these nine little jumping jacks.

Good sportsmanship, teamwork, eating together before games, and sharing their ideas and problems at practices with their advisor, Miss Sifford, made these nine individuals one big, closely united family.

Limelighters

... IN THE SPOTLIGHT ...

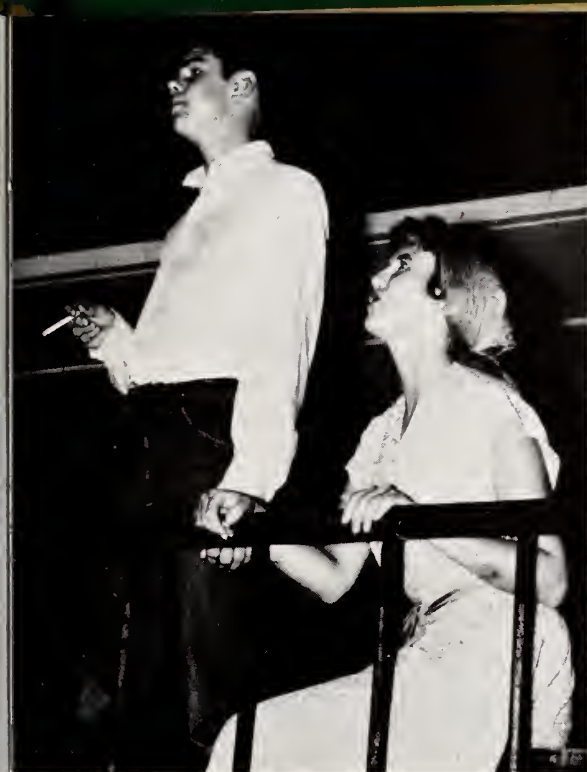

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF FRED SITTON, the Limelighters held the spotlight with four dramatic productions. The season began in September with Tennessee Williams' The Glass Menagerie featuring Jeannette Harrison, Mary Wilson, Paul Gold, and Robert Dugan. November introduced the production of Thornton Wilder's Our Town, which utilized the acting talents of Ed McGee, Vonette Massey, Tootsie Sheppard, Stewart White, Amon Liner, and Harry and Larry Smith. Paul Gold played the coveted role of the Stage Manager. In February the Limelighters presented Andre Obey's Noah and introduced a new group of thespians. John Kennedy, Tommy Thomas, May Wells Jones, David Burns, Lynn Flowe, Robin Roberson, Frankie McDonald, and Sue Hull assumed major roles in the production along with Robert Dugan, a veteran Limelighter. Mary Dale and Dottie Leggett set the pace for a group of dancers, most of whom made an initial appearance on the boards at Myers Park High School. The month of May served as a finale to the active group who chose The Taming of the Shrew for the annual Shakespearean production.

The Limelighters won three of the twelve "Highest Awards" given at the Carolina Dramatic Association Festival at Chapel Hill.

... ON THE SPOT ...

A NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM installed in the Little Theater Room and the Cafeteria contributed a great deal of enthusiasm in the technical ranks of the Limelighters. Ed McGee and Van Giersch lent their talents to the new switchboard during the multi-cued Glass Menagerie as Jean Fullerton concentrated on two turntables for sound and a multitude of props.

Our Town initiated the new theater accommodations in the Cafeteria. Jean Fullerton exercised an iron glove backstage in her technical duties. She was ably assisted by David Burns, Pete Elliott, and Joe Williamson. Millard Hair served as lighting technician for the show.

Noah posed a problem from the start. Three settings were constructed by the Production Class for the small stage of the Little Theater room. Traffic confusion provided by seventeen members of the cast was controlled by the assistant to the director, Jean Fullerton, as flats and platforms were shuffled by John Gravitte, Joe Brunson and members of the cast. Paul Gold left the boards for backstage duty in assembling the electronic devices for producing a multitude of sounds accompanying the flood. Paul was given moral support by Karen McKinnon. Choreography for Noah introduced the talents of Joe Helms, Dottie Leggett, and Mary Dale in devising dances which contributed much to the pace of the play.

The annual Shakespearean production, The Taming of the Shrew, was produced out-of-doors on the cafeteria terrace. Every member of the Limelighters was pressed into service to bring a climax to a full year of drama.

WE BUILD. This year, as in years past, the Key Club has worked to achieve a goal so ably named in its motto. This building took place in many forms and activities.

For the school the members worked in the concession stand during football season. At out-of-town football games there was always a good student representation because the Key Club sponsored buses to carry students. At Christmas the Club presented every student a city directory of high school students.

For the community the Club provided ushers for the Ice Capades. During the Holiday Season they gave presents to an underprivileged family. In the spring they were host to the Carolinas' Key Club Convention.

To carry out many projects, boys of the highest calibre are needed. Myers Park's Key Club has pride in the high standards of leadership, citizenship, sportsmanship, and scholarship it upholds.

"ONE FOR YOU, TWO FOR ME," says BUTCH ROGERS, Chairman of the Key Club Directory Committee to committee members Charles Waters and Ken Oliver.

Girl Ambassadors

SERVICE... THEIR SYMBOL OF GOOD WILL

THE AIM OF THE GIRL AMBASSADORS is to serve their school and community, and all of the activities for the year have been centered around this ideal.

At the beginning of school they gave their annual new girls' tea. During the football season the members made and sold tassels before all of the football games. Groups of Ambassadors visited the Methodist Home regularly to cheer the elderly folks living there, and at Christmas they heartily supported the Student Council's project of helping needy families. They also spread the joyous Christmas spirit when they went caroling one rainy night.

Certainly they have lived up to their motto, "Duty makes us do things well; love makes us do them beautifully."

During the 1956-57 school year, the Y-Teens of Myers Park High School have been a part of many community-aid projects. Examples of their work were aiding in the Hungarian Relief fund, helping the March of Dimes at its convention and with its sale-projects, and providing food and clothing for many underprivileged families.

As a service club, the Y-Teens have given time and effort toward upholding the worthy name of their school.

The Beonie Brigode

Monogram Club

THE MONOGRAM CLUB began this school year with an unusually large club composed of seventy-five members. As more and more boys won recognition for athletic achievements, the membership swelled to approximately one hundred and thirty members. Pledges wearing green and white beanies survived the initiation ceremonies and proudly joined the ranks of the white sweater and green letter set.

Since the club is composed entirely of athletes, the members voted to support the athletic fund with proceeds from their main projects of selling booster cards and operating the concession stand at home basketball games. In addition to contributing to the athletic fund, the club participated in the annual Empty Stocking Fund and in various other programs at school. Certainly this has been a successful year for the boys who so proudly wear the colors and monogram of Myers Park High School.

Girls' Athletic Association

GIRLS AT MYERS PARK are sports-minded, too! This year an enthusiastic group, tripling former years in membership, has participated in a varied and interesting program of activities. The Athletic Council, composed of the Association officers, homeroom representatives, and sports leaders, has met throughout the year with an aim to meet the needs and interests of every girl.

Whether for competition or enjoyment, this active association of girls joined together in taking golf lessons, swimming, bowling, playing tennis and basketball. A major goal of the G.A.A.'s was fulfilled when members sold booster pennants and pins during football and basketball seasons to further school spirit and stimulate wide interest in all athletic events.

Senior High Chorus

VERSATILE AND HARMONIOUS are apt descriptions for this year's Myers Park Chorus. Under the direction of Mr. Carl Cronstedt, they presented concerts at the First Methodist Church, the First Presbyterian Church, the Coliseum, and at school assemblies and P. T. A. meetings. In addition, they presented broadcasts over WBT and WIST. In April they entered the North Carolina State Music Contest for the first time.

The most outstanding work of the organization was their presentation of Handel's Messiah, accompanied by the high school orchestra. This talented group is indeed a credit to our school.

Along with their musical work, the Chorus also enjoyed good fellowship at several parties and a banquet.

EACH DAY during sixth period, members of the Boys' Glee Club met and combined their talents in what they fondly called music.

Under the skillful guidance of Mr. Carl Cronstedt, who was faced with the task of blending the various parts into a harmonious whole, the group advanced daily toward greater perfection.

The diligent work of its members was mixed with wholesome fun to make the Glee Club very worthwhile.

Junior High Chorus

THIS YEAR produced the largest Junior High Chorus in the history of Myers Park High School—a total of 190 voices. The students were divided into two different sessions and met every other day. From the large chorus, forty members were chosen to attend the state music contest in Greensboro, where they won meritable recognition.

Music at

THE MUSIC PROGRAM of Myers Park has continued to win acclaim. The largest orchestra in school history, having a membership of seventy, attained the singular honor of representing North Carolina at the Music Educator's National Convention at Miami, Florida, in April. This was an appropriate recognition for the director and the members who have worked so painstakingly to achieve the highest standards of music education and student performance at our school. For four years they have received top ratings in the district and state music contests.

"FOR YOUR LISTENING PLEASURE . . ." First row: Murray, Frost, Johnson, Rosenblatt, Elliot, Summers, Rogers, Woods. Second row: Sandler, Shope, J. Grovely, Buice, Gilbert, Grohom, Spoon, J. Myers Park

The orchestra presented three formal concerts and combined with the chorus in the Christmas presentation of Handel's Messiah.

The Myers Park Band has likewise had a most successful year. In addition to performing at the home football games, they attended two out-of-town games, the Carolinas' Carrousel, the Shrine Bowl, and Band Day at the University of North Carolina. This fine musical group presented three concerts before capacity audiences and received high ratings in the district music contest held in Salisbury and in the state music contest held in Greensboro.

Myers Park is indeed proud of its fine orchestra and band directed by Mr. Julian Helms.

Our Sports . . .

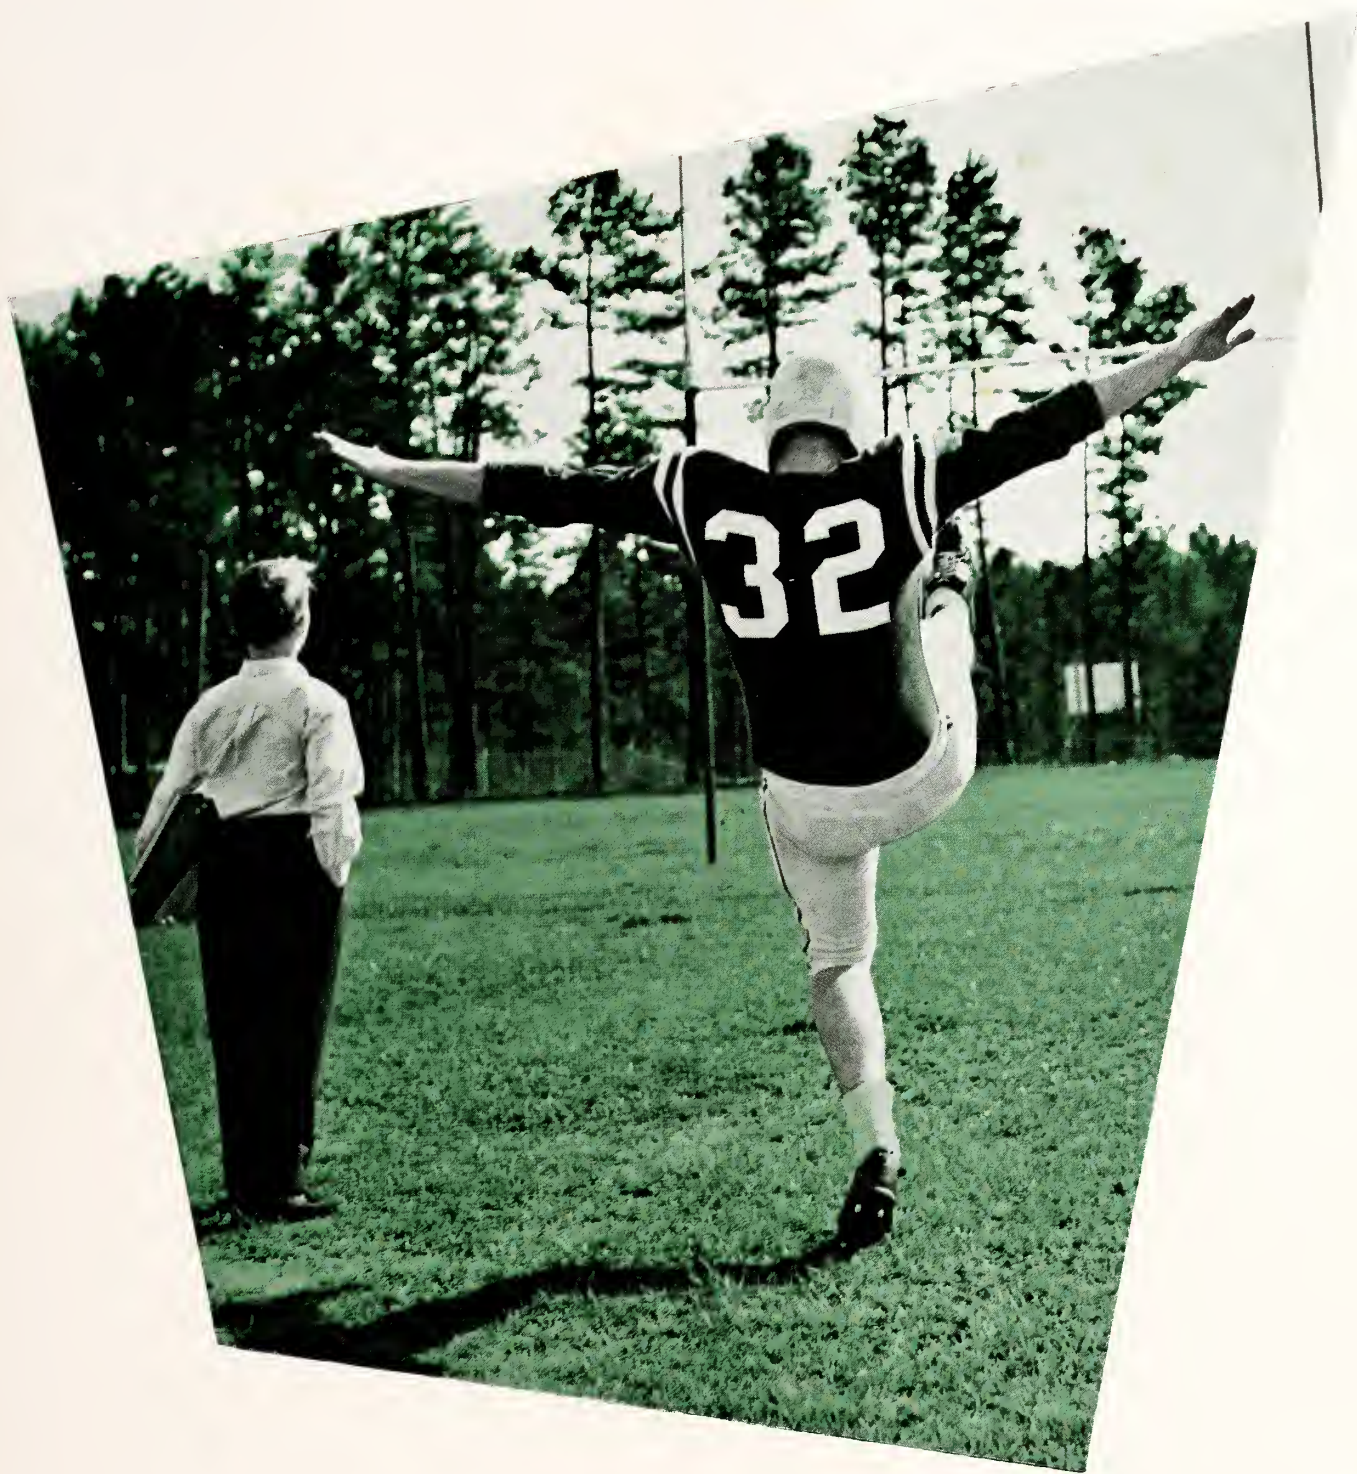

From rented fields to our own stadium . . . from A.G. at night to our modern gym . . . from underdogs to state champions: these are the heights to which Myers Park has risen in the past few years.

Six short years ago the football team dressed in the teachers' lounge . . . the basketball team practiced away from school . . . the trophy case was bare: these were the obstacles to overcome.

The early teams—four including junior high—were like the facilities, bad. Now grown to thirteen teams we have state champions . . . golf . . . tennis . . . track . . . cross country. Our basketball team is one of the best in the state . . . our football team, the strongest ever.

Our first player in the Shrine Bowl . . . many All-City players . . . a trophy case bulging with golden hardware: these typify a gangling colt grown into a steaming, puffing, dangerous Mustang . . . as MYERS PARK'S MIGHTY MUSTANGS steam-rolled through an 8-2 season. This far surpassed any previous season as the MUSTANGS showed the power they had hoped for in other years.

The season opened in the brand new Myers Park Stadium on September eighth with a 6-0 win over a surprisingly strong North Mecklenburg eleven. A hard-fighting MUSTANG eleven fell to traditional rival Central 26-0, a score which did not truly reflect the fighting spirit of the Steeds.

Once more in stride, Myers Park breezed past East with a score of 19-7.

In the all-important game with undefeated Harding, the MUSTANGS were unable to overcome the Rams' attack, going down by 24-0, in the game which decided the GCAA championship.

Myers Park next traveled to Burlington where in a rainy, exciting game the MUSTANGS downed AAA Burlington 26-6. Coming from behind early in the first quarter, they ran wild over the field.

The MUSTANGS had a night's work in putting down the Indian attack of West, 20-12, winning the game in the last quarter, after losing an early lead.

Monroe fought gamely, going down by only one point, 7-6.

A cold, wet crowd saw the MUSTANGS sneak by AAA Rock Hill 6-0, this ruining their homecoming.

The Steeds were not to be denied in their homecoming game against Granite Falls. Before a wildly-cheering throng of MUSTANG supporters, the Steeds scored a 6-0 victory.

Closing their season in knee-deep mud, the Parkers defeated Mooresville, 13-0.

The "winningest MUSTANGS ever" were led by Shrine Bowler Pat Gregory, Most Valuable Player Award; Butch Rogers, Outstanding Back Award; Morrison Divine, Outstanding Lineman Award; and Jimmy Brownell, Sportsmanship Award.

WITH RETURNING LETTERMEN Billy Ashendorf, Doug Galvin, Harry Jones, Verner Stanley, Robert Summerville, and Jim Whitehead, the MUSTANGS had the material for another successful season. Myers Park's completing a tough twenty-game schedule with an 11-9 record showed the cagers had the will to win.

Gastonia, a strong AAA team, played host to the MUSTANGS in the opening game of the season. A nip-and-tuck battle saw Gastonia edge the Parkers by one point, 62-61. Later the same week, Myers Park hosted the Central WILDCATS in a game which gave the Centralites a 61-58 victory.

Gastonia visited the Myers Park campus to drop the third game of the season 66-61. In quick succession Asheville downed the MUSTANGS 44-36; East defeated Myers Park 60-58; North dropped an important game 68-61.

In the Coliseum, Myers Park met the Harding

RAMS in a game which saw slow play and accurate shooting, the RAMS taking the game by a score of 64-56.

As the season progressed, Myers Park racked up five additional wins against two losses. The winning stretch saw East downed 63-53; Hickory, by 66-52; Wadesboro, by 79-61; and West, by 71-58. The Parkers bowed to Asheville in a 54-52 thriller, smashed the RAMS 73-61, and closed their season by falling to North, 61-58.

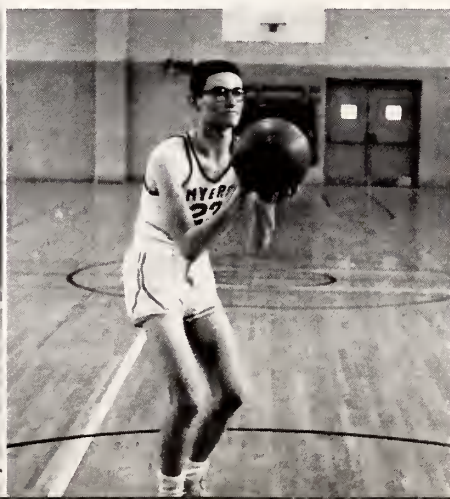

The MUSTANGS were led all season by the outstanding playing of Harry Jones. Harry averaged slightly over twenty points per game, was voted the Most Outstanding Player in the county, and was selected for the North Carolina Kiwanis Classic Team.

In the GCAA Tournament, Myers Park won the Consolation trophy. In the District Tournament they were defeated in the quarter-finals by East.

The MUSTANG eleven, showing promise of a bright future for football at Myers Park, fought Gastonia and North in tie games and lost only to Harding and Central.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

COACH JACK SINK'S JUNIOR VARSITY basketball team continued to roll as they won their third consecutive championship. After snaring the regular season's title, they won the GCAA JV Tournament by defeating East and North. The JV's completed the season with a record of nineteen wins and only three losses, achieving a three-year record of fifty-eight wins against ten setbacks. David Underwood paced the JV's with a season's total of 300 points.

Wins over Carolina, North Carolina State, and Wake Forest freshmen highlighted the season. Another highlight came in the North Carolina High School Cross Country Meet where Myers Park won the team championship, and David Gilmour won the individual state championship. John Boles also ran well all season for the Mustangs.

Junior High Football

WITH NO RETURNING LETTERMEN and only three boys who had played in the past, Myers Park's junior high football squad finished this season with a 3-3 record.

This year, with the addition of three new junior high schools in Charlotte, the football teams were divided into two separate leagues, eliminating the possibility of a city championship. All of the games were played in the Myers Park Stadium.

On October 4, the Colts opened their season by stomping the A. G. Bulldogs to the tune of 7-0.

In their second match they met Sedgfield and emerged victor, 12-0.

A touchdown and extra point in the final seconds of the game with Eastway Junior High brought the Colts their first defeat. The final score was Eastway 7, Myers Park 6.

The McClintock Scots became the second team to down the juniors; the score was McClintock 6, Myers Park 0.

Piedmont provided the Colts with their third victory. The game was won by a wide margin of 14-0. A 95-yard return of a Piedmont kick by Tommy Blanton and a 65-yard sprint by Mike Houston highlighted the triumph.

On November 8, the junior MUSTANGS brought their season to a close falling before Hawthorne Junior High. The score was Hawthorne 6, Myers Park 0.

At this time she also presented the trophy for the Junior High City Championship to the school. The team was invited to attend a dance which was held for the boys' and girls' junior high basketball teams.

Sally McKaig and Betsy Glenn were outstanding forwards. Their co-ordination and accuracy won the games and thrilled the elated spectators. The Summerville twins, Sandra and Linda, were outstanding guards. These girls helped to make every game an exciting and unpredictable one.

ONE OF THE MOST POPULAR athletic organizations of the year was the Girls' Swimming Club. The enthusiastic participants met at the Y.W.C.A. every Monday afternoon to perfect their techniques and to enjoy wholesome recreation and fellowship.

During the winter months they practiced synchronized swimming, and in the spring they entered competitive events. Miss Stuckey was the co-ordinator and advisor for the group.

Golf

THE GIRLS' GOLF CLUB met during the fall for individual and group lessons at Carmel Country Club. This enthusiastic group was made up of beginners and more advanced players. A large number of girls took part during the fall. When the winter months came, the club disbanded until spring. Their interest did not lag, however, and in the first warm days of March the girls met again. The spring club continued the same type of program that had been followed in the fall. Toward the end of the season a tournament among the more advanced members was held. Many girls, by working hard to improve their skill, were able to take part in this. A trophy was awarded to the winner of this tournament. All felt that they had improved their game and had fun doing so.

Tennis

EARLY IN THE SPRING the Girls' Tennis Club was formed. A great many girls turned out. The more advanced players began playing each other almost immediately, while the beginners were given individual instruction by Miss Kitty Stuckey, the physical education teacher. Each Wednesday the club met at Freedom Park, and under the supervision of Miss Stuckey the girls worked hard to improve their skills in serving, volleying, and the backhand and forehand strokes. Often, after working hard, they relaxed and enjoyed refreshments provided by the club.

Beginning in May the club held an intra-squad tournament, as they were not able to schedule any games with the other city high schools. Everyone enjoyed this very much, for it brought to a climax all the time that each had spent in practice.

Our Features . . .

Always in our dreams, as we near the end of our journey, there is the final surge of effort . . . the last and greatest of goals yet to be reached . . . long and faithful work to be recognized.

These honors and awards, a goal for which we have been striving from our first days at Myers Park, are now assigned and will not leave our memory.

For beauty . . . special talents . . . character . . . personality . . . scholarship—from a senior class rich with potentiality in every direction—classmates have chosen superlatives. There is outside recognition, too . . . the Harvard Book Award, most outstanding boy; DAR Award, most outstanding girl . . . Mr. and Miss Myers Park, symbols of school-spirit, vital enthusiasm . . . Miss Hi-Miss, exceptional achievement.

They are ours, we are theirs . . . their accomplishments representing a final chapter in the fulfillment of our dreams . . . as their dreams fulfilled.

To Our Advertisers and Sponsors . . .

The students of Myers Park High School and the staff of the 1957 MUSTANG extend our heart-felt thanks to our advertisers and sponsors for their wonderful cooperation during the past year.

Any publication of this size would be impossible without the aid of outside support. We want each of our contributors to realize how very sincerely we appreciate their assistance.

We urge our students and their families to patronize the advertisers as this is the most genuine way of showing our appreciation to them.

OF YOUR YEAR AT MYERS PARK

Dear Harry,

This epistle is kinda hard to write because I am a nice little girl and I am not used to writing to mean little boys! Harry, I have really and truly enjoyed knowing you this year in Algebra, and all of the many great times we have all had in here will always be remembered! Please have alot of fun this summer and I will see you next year when you merge into the third and last shift of the salt mines! (How I envy you!) Please try to be a nice little boy this summer! W.K.?

Love.
